

How has life changed?

A comparison between our grandparents' life and ours

Our project is about comparing the past and the present and for that we interviewed our grandfathers and grandmothers.

In our class there are five different groups with different topics. The topics are: music, films, photography, culture and fashion. The day we interviewed our grandparents each group asked them some questions about these topic.

All the class listened to all the interviews to get as much information as possible.

The interviews were so useful to make our projects because we learned so many things about that time. Then we chose what we wanted to do, for example: one of the groups wanted to choose an old film but making it new using modern technology, to compare how the filming techniques have changed. In two weeks' time we will present these projects with the purpose of showing the difference between our grandparents' life and ours.

How to plan the project?

First of all we completed a timetable to organize the session.

Thanks to the timetable we realized that this project wasn't feasible because we didn't have enough time to make a home movie and we also realized the importance of having a good organization from the beginning. For that reason, we had to change all the project and do a more realistic one. So it's important having a Plan B from the beginning if the first one doesn't work.
